Congressman Campbell Cantrill has introduced a bill of great interest and importance to the tobacco growers of Kentucky. It is said he has the pledge of enough Democratic votes to insure its passage by the House without unnecessary delay. The bill provides that the Director of the Census shall proceed to collect complete statistics, showing the amount of the tobacco now owned or held by persons other than the original growers. The manufacturers and the dealers will be required under this legislation to give full and accurate information of the tobacco they have on hand. Anybody who refuses to give the information is to be punished for the first offense with a fine of $300 to $1,000. For the second offense he is to be sent to jail for from thirty days to six months.

Holds Out-Of-Door Court.

During the intense heat of last Friday while Judge Walker was holding court in Harrodsburg, Col. E. H. Gaither, one of the leading attorneys at the Mercer county bar, fainted in the court room. It was during the motion hour and Judge Walker immediately adjourned court to the lawn in front of the old court house, where the final proceedings of the day were gone through with, and Col. Gaither being engaged in all the cases that would come up for trial at the remainder of the term, Judge Walker finally adjourned the session because of the illness of the stricken attorney.

Another chapter is thus added to the history of this spot, it being the first place in Kentucky where open air religious service was even held.

Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson Passed To Rest.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Patterson died at her home on the Buckeye pike, three miles from town, at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon of the infirmities of old age. Funeral services were conducted at the grave at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Rev. F. M. Tindler, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery.

Mrs. Patterson was 88 years of age and was the widow of Judge James Patterson, who preceded her to the grave many years since. Judge Patterson was for two terms county judge of Garrard county. Mrs. Patterson before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Wooley, and was related to the Leavell family of this county.

She had been a long and patient sufferer, being confirmed invalid for thirty years. She had been a consistent member of the Christian church from her girlhood. Mrs. Patterson is survived by four children, Miss Margaret Patterson, who resided at the old home place with her mother, Mrs. George F. Brown of this county and Messrs James H. and William Patterson of California.

The Danville Advocate deplors, editorially, the use of dynamite in Dix River and Hanging Fork. Alas brother the half has not been told. What the big twenty foot seism fail to get the giggling fiend kills. It is no unusual occurrence for one or two men to go out from this locality and in a single night kill one hundred or more pounds of fish with a gig, and we are afforded the unusual sight of small mouth black bass offered for sale on our streets. Never a day passes but one or more buggies pass through here from adjoining counties headed for these streams carrying big fish seines.

It does seem that some scheme could be devised to stop this indiscriminate breaking of the game laws. Giggling is not contrary to law, but the extent to which it is being practised should make it so, and the citizens of Boyle, Lincoln, Garrard and Mercer county should take some united action in the matter. Will someone kindly suggest a mode of procedure.

Much apprehension was felt by some democrats because of the fact that Hon J. C. S. Blackburn was booked for a speech at Owensboro on last Saturday, and it was freely predicted, among other dire calamities, that the "Sage of Woodford" was going to lambast someone. However, they were disappointed, this staunch old democrat is not made of that kind of material; he made an old fashioned democratic speech, such as he was ever wont to make. He advocated party harmony from start to finish, plead for it with all the eloquence of which he is capable. He announced that he was not, and never again expected to be a candidate for office, unless called upon by his party when they were in dire straits. He ended his speech with one of those rare bursts of oratory for which he has ever been noted.

A New York clergyman wrote to several public men asking them why they believed in God. Among the answers received was the following from Mayor Gagner with the Commensers remarks thereon. "You ask me? Why do I believe in the Father God? Because I simply cannot help it. I have absolute confidence in Him and am willing to submit to whatever He wills in respect to me."

Simple testimony, indeed, but the Mayor of New York is big enough to bear witness to the simple faith of a little child when occasion requires and testimonies of this kind certainly must have far-reaching influence upon young men and young women.

The restrictions which have heretofore been placed on the New York Life Insurance Co. by the state of New York, whereby they were prohibited from writing more than $150,000,000 to the state, which prohibition prevented them seeking new business in Kentucky, has been removed. The Company has closed a deal with Col. W. P.

Walton whereby he is to take charge of their business in Lexington. We congratulate the Colonel on his good fortune, and at the same time we hope that it will not take him entirely out of the journalistic field. Colonel Walton occupies a place in journalism in Central Kentucky that would be hard to fill.

At Juarez Sunday morning representatives of both the Mexican Federal Government and the Insurrectos signed a peace agreement. The resignation of president Diaz is expected this week. The news of the signing of the peace agreement was hailed with delight by the entire people of the republic, and a feeling of quietude has succeeded the turbulent times of the past few weeks.

At Least Paint The Court House.

It seems to be out of the question to be continually urging that the court house be repaired and be placed in a safe and sanitary condition, as there seems to be no indication of anything being done along this line in the near future. Probably should the people awake some morning to find the structure in ashes and their records destroyed they would then realize the fact that they had been penny wise and pound foolish. Did you ever stop to think what your position would be if you had never had the deed to your property recorded and all the parties to it were dead, this would be your exact position should the court house burn, only worse, for both deed and record would burn, the present vaults would not protect them against fire. Every title in Garrard county would be clouded, but we have preached the necessity of repairing the court house until patience has ceased to be a virtue.

What we now want is to suggest that the members of the Fiscal Court at least give the old structure a coat of paint, regild the face of the clock and make it look a little more presentable, even if it is not what it should be from other standpoints. It has been many years since the court house was painted, and it certainly does need it, and the paint on the faces of the clock has scaled and dropped off until the figures are almost obliterated.

The court house is naturally a very attractive building to the eye and it would surely be an economic act as well as one of justice to give it a nice fresh coat of paint.

Electric Line.

A special from Lexington says:—The new corporation which was recently organized in the East to absorb the Lexington street car line, and the various interurban trolley lines radiating from this city, formally took possession yesterday when articles incorporating the three present traction interests in and about the city into the new corporation of the Kentucky Traction and Terminal Company were filed in the office of the County Clerk.

The new corporation takes over the entire business of the three companies which it consolidates, assuming all liability for their contracts and the deal is acknowledged by the majority of all parties in interest and becomes effective at once.

The capital stock of the companies consolidating amount to the sum of $1,925,000 and the capital stock of the new corporation is two and one half million dollars.

The new corporation commenced its corporate existence on this date, May 17, 1911, and is to continue for a term of 100 years, the limit of corporate indebtedness which it may assume being not in excess of the sum of $15,000,000.

The new corporation is a consolidation of the Lexington Railway Company with a capital stock of $800,000; the Blue Grass Traction Company, with a capital stock of $700,000, and the Central Kentucky Traction Company, with a capital stock of $425,000.

That extensions of the present interurban systems are contemplated is indicated in the articles of incorporation, which contain provisions for the extension of the present lines and the building of new lines to adjacent towns and cities. The right to construct a line to Winchester, and through Winchester to Mt. Sterling; a line to Richmond; to extend the present Frankfort line to Lawrenceburg, Shelbyville and Owenton; the Paris line to Cynthiana; the Nicholasville line to Lancaster and through there to Danville, and from there to Harrodsburg are all included in the privileges claimed under the new charter.

The total mileage authorized by the articles amount to about 250 miles and there has already been subscribed and paid in more than $250 per mile on the total mileage mentioned in the articles, they state.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No. Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N.C., "and I had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at R. E. McRoberts & Son. 1-m

Our Visitors.

After a two days jaunt through the Kentucky mountains, which was one continuous round of accepting the hospitality of those most hospitable people tired, worn and dusty, yet still full of the boosting spirit, at 1:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Louisville "Head of Houses" delegation arrived in Lancaster. The arrival of their train was heralded by the blowing of the mill and other whistles in the vicinity of the depot.

Upon alighting, the rank and file were hustled into waiting automobiles and whisked to the park, where a grand stand had been erected, after music by Seibert's band which accompanied the Boosters, the welcoming address was made by City Attorney, H. C. Kauffman, who in a short, but happy and pleasing manner bade welcome to our distinguished guests and turned over to them the keys to the city. He dwelt briefly upon the great men sent from Garrard county to Louisville and into the world at large, finishing with a beautiful tribute to Judge Lewis L. Walker, whose decisions he said the supreme court of the state had but to hear to affirm, and predicting that he would eventually grace the supreme bench. Mr. Kauffman was followed by Mr. Charles W. Milliken, Receiver of City Taxes for the City of Louisville, who after relating that his last visit to Lancaster was made memorable by the fact that he was not here ten minutes before he was in jail, he came to adjust the insurance on our recently burned hotel some fifteen years ago, and took dinner at the jail, to which he had reference; he in turn introduced Dr. Ben L. Bruner, who in behalf of the Commercial Organization of which he was a member, made one of those quick and catchy, yet thoroughly logical speeches, of which he is so capable. Dr. Bruner said that Lancaster seemed to be thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the day, namely, "good roads, good schools and good banks", and that they seemed to be at the top notch in all of these things. He finished his remarks by advocating a principle which the Record has so often pleaded with her county people to apply to our own county and town, that is "help make the metropolis great, and thereby add greatness to yourself."

Dr. Bruner was followed by County Attorney Joseph E. Robinson, who was informed in the outset that his remarks would be limited to ten minutes, notwithstanding this fact, Mr. Robinson went to it with a vim, and in the short time allotted him, if he did not convince the Louisville people that this was the greatest county in the state, it certainly was not his fault. He took up the time allotted him in presenting to them a few facts in regards to the productiveness of the county and its resources, and he would up by trying to convince the delegation that we made Louisville and asking some little return for our kindness in the way of assisting us in securing some of the few facilities which we are seeking.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the entertainment of the Boosters while they were with us, automobiles in ample number were at the depot to bring them to town, and every thing possible was done to make their short stay a pleasant one. Upon the conclusion of the speaking every member of the Boosters' club was presented with a Garrard county cob pipe, attached thereto with a dainty ribbon was a card bearing the inscription: "Kentucky Meerschaum from 'The Land Of Now'. While smoking this remember your country cousins who are always glad to have you as their guests."

Because of the fact that the train had several other towns at which they were advertised to stop during the day, their stay here was necessarily short. They left with the assurance that they had thoroughly enjoyed their short stay and that they would come again when they would have more time to spend with us.

The Troubadours Please Crowds

The National Troubadours, a home talent entertainment will show at the Opera House in Lancaster, Friday night, May 26th. The show is given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society and is under the management of Miss Louella Jolly, who put on a show at Lebanon last week. In speaking of the show The Lebanon paper has the following to say:

The National Troubadours, a musical entertainment with local talent comprising the cast pleased large crowds at the opera house on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Augustine's church and about $75 was realized. The cast was under the direction of Miss Louella Jolly, and the success of the entertainment is due in no small measure to her proficiency. The program below gives the name of those who took part and their respective roles. We have only space to speak of them collectively, and nothing truer could be said than that Miss Jolly in her experience in this work, we will wager, has never had soloists and chorus that for sweet voices and feminine loveliness could compare with the Lebanon cast. The character sketches were excellent, and the fifty little girls as butterflies and fairies formed a scene that was most enchanting.

Tinsley Bros. sold a pair of five year old horses to Wilson Rodgers for $300.

John W. Francis sold a fancy harness mare to C. Gathill of Williamsburg Monday for $225.

A. W. Kavanaugh sold and shipped his gray saddle horse to Mississippi, receiving $300, for him.

Wilson Rodgers sold to Jack Beasley of Stanford a five year old horse for $175. He also sold to Robert Burton a three year old horse for $155.

Squire J. P. Bourne bought a mule of J. W. Prewitt for $150 and one of Madison county parties for $100. He also sold a mule to Lincoln county parties for $135.

There is no danger whatever of overstocking the market with really good horses, no matter for what purpose intended. The topnotcher will always be in demand.

"Tis an ill wind that blows nobody good." The extreme heat at such an early date has spoiled the cut worm crop, or at least we have heard no complaint from the farmers about that pest.

If every farmer would raise six pigs a year, that would provide twelve hams, twelve shoulders, and twelve sides, and lard, spareribs and sausage in addition. For a small family one ham or shoulder or side per week would furnish enough meat diet for thirty-six weeks.

A mule, the college experts say, is never sick but once in his life. This sickness is followed by a funeral. Two good spans of mules will last fifty years with good care and human treatment. They are not so fashionable as automobiles, but a heap more profitable.

Despairing of being able to profitably raise tobacco this year, because of the low prices of the weed, the high cost of labor and the scarcity of tobacco plants, many Nicholas county farmers are preparing to put in one of the biggest crops of watermelons ever planted in the county.

Many mules are being shipped to Decatur, Ala., from Tennessee and Kentucky and are being sold to the farmers in the Decatur and vicinity at good prices. Almost every week a carload of mules arrive and are soon disposed of in the markets of the Decatur.

There were only about thirty five cattle on the market Monday and few of those changed hands. The light showers and prospects of more have turned the attention of the farmers to their backward crops and they are more occupied with catching up than they are in cattle trading.

English trotting mare, Lady Comber, who was 26 years old in June, 1895, in an effort to trot twenty miles inside of an hour, she covered the distance in 59 3-5 seconds. Only six American horses have ever trotted twenty miles in one hour and none of them since 1878.

Sim Weil who has been slopping a large number of cattle at Silver Creek, Madison county, this season, sold the lot to Nelson Morris, last week at $5.50 per cwt. There were two hundred in the bunch and they averaged 1,265. According to those who know there were about 40,000 slop fed cattle in Kentucky this year and the sloppers will lose the profit they made last year. This has been anything but a cattle year.

Circumstances seem to be combining against the raising of sheep in this state, the rigid quarantine laws are calculated to discourage the sheep industry, however, once the disease is stamped out, which the present rigid proceeding is calculated to do, we will have no more trouble along that line.

The price of wool has fallen off to an alarming extent, the best wool bringing only about 21 cents per pound, ranging down as low as 14 1/2 for the common and burry article.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back For An Old One—How It Is Done In Lancaster.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Lancaster citizen.

Mrs. T. S. Elkin, New Danville Pike, Lancaster, Ky., says: "I feel grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the benefit they have brought in my family. My back was very lame and there was a constant pain at the base of my spine. Doan's Kidney Pills went at once to the root of my trouble and entirely relieved me. Another member of my family was bothered by attacks of lumbago and at times this person's back was so weak and lame that walking was difficult. Doan's Kidney Pills brought relief in this case just as quickly as they did in mine. I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know they live up to all the claims made for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Fare good at the Lancaster Fair, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 26th, 27th and 28th, 1911.

Simplicity of La Fontaine.

Apologies of the simple, philosophical La Fontaine I either read or heard a touching trait of his simplicity. He was wise enough to despise money and spent all he had from not knowing its value or caring for its production. When reduced to nothing he lived with a friend who loved him and supplied the very few wants he had. This friend died. One who had known La Fontaine at his house immediately went to invite him to come and live with him. He met La Fontaine on the road to his chateau, and upon hearing the invitation the poet replied, "J'y allais" ("I was going there"). The narrative of his reply is very striking.—From Lady Holland's Journal.
